

TRADING POLICIES

HC HOLDING GROUP LIMITED

1. SECURITY IN EXECUTION.

- 1.1 HCFX operates with variable spreads and all orders are executed at the best available market price.

2. HOLIDAY, WEEKEND EXECUTION, VOLATILE OR ILLIQUID MARKETS.

- 2.1 If the market opens with a break off after a weekend or holidays, upon release of important economic and political news, or in the case of force majeure events; orders (STOP ORDERS include stop loss) are filled at the first available prices in the market.

3. FILLS ON STOP – LOSS AND LIMIT ORDERS.

- 3.1 Placing stop orders prior to the release of financial news is not permitted, such orders maybe rejected, deleted, or filled at the best available market prices at that time. Orders (STOP ORDERS include stop loss) are filled at the first available prices in the market.

4. EXECUTION SLIPPAGE.

- 4.1 Slippage occurs when the bid/ask spread changes between the time the order is requested and the order is executed at. When the order is sent for execution, the specific price requested by you may not be available. In this case, the order will be executed at the first available market price. Slippage happens during high periods of volatility, such as during important news or economic data releases. You should know that ‘slippage’ is a normal market practice and we are not responsible for it in any way. HCFX assumes no responsibility for slippage occurred because of any problems or technical malfunction of any networks or lines, computer online systems, servers or providers, hardware or software, or any technical failure because of technical problems or traffic congestion on the Internet or the website, or the trading platform.

5. EXECUTION DELAY.

- 5.1 A delay in execution can happen for several reason, such as technical issues with the trader’s internet connection to the HCFX’s servers, which may result in hanging orders. The trading tools on a trader’s side may not be maintaining a constant connection with the HCFX’s servers due a lack of signal strength from interrupt the signal, and disable the trading station, which can cause delays in the transmission of data between the trader’s side and the HCFX’s server.

6. GREYED OUT PRICING.

6.1 The company does not intentionally “grey out” prices; however, this is a condition that occurs when liquidity decreases, and liquidity providers that provide pricing to the HCFX are not actively making a market for particular currency pairs. At times, a severe increase in the different spread may occur due to a loss of connectivity with a liquidity provider or due to an announcement that has a dramatic effect on the market that dries out liquidity. Such greying out of prices or increased spread may result in margin calls on a trader’s account.

7. WIDENED SPREAD.

7.2 HCFX aim is to provide traders with tight, competitive spreads; however, there may be instances when spread may widen beyond the typical spread. During news events spread may widen substantially in order to compensate for the tremendous amount of volatility in the market. The widened spread may only last a few seconds or as long as a few minutes.

7.2 The Company strongly encourages traders to use caution when trading around news events and economic announcements and always be aware of their account equity, usable margin and market exposure. Widened spreads can adversely affect all positions in an account.

8. GAPPING.

8.1 Sunday’s opening prices might or might not be the same as Friday’s closing prices. At times, the prices on the Sunday open are near where prices were on the Friday close. At other times, there might be a significant difference between Friday’s closed and Sunday’s open. The market may gap if there is significant news announcement or an economic event changing how the markets views the value of currency. Traders holding positions or orders over the weekend should be fully comfortable with the potential of the market to gap. In the case of Pending orders, the limit or stop orders will be executed at the next available price after the gap.

9. WEEKEND RISK (PRICE GAP).

9.1 Traders who fear the markets may be extremely volatile over the weekend, that gapping may occur, or that the potential for weekend risk is not appropriate for their trading style, may simply close out orders and position ahead of weekend.

10. CHART VS PRICES DISPLAYED ON THE PLATFORM.

- 10.1 It is important to make a distinction between indicative prices (displayed on chart) and executable prices (displayed on the HCFX Metatrader Platform in the Market Watch Window). Indicative prices are usually very close to executable prices. An indicative price only gives an indication of where the market is. Only executable prices can be traded.

11. DIFFERENCES IN PRICING BETWEEN BROKERS.

- 11.1 Because the spot forex market is decentralized meaning it lacks a single central exchange where all transactions are conducted, each forex broker, may quote slightly differently price. The small differences in prices are also due to the different spreads and commissions each broker charges.

12. EXPERT ADVISOR TRADING (EA).

- 12.1 HCFX allows trading via Expert Advisors but does not offer support regarding their installation, implementation and proper functioning. This is due to the large number of EA's that are released which makes it impossible for the HCFX to support them. Therefore, any responsibility for the proper functioning of an EA lies with the user of the EA. HCFX does not accept liability for the misuse of any EA within the HCFX's client terminal.
